Non-Standard Design

Regionals with Security Features

(A) Emblem Pictorials

In each miniature sheet in the series of “Celebrating” miniature sheets, Royal Mail included the current standard Emblem 1st regional along with a further 1st stamp in a very similar style, showing the flag of the relevant country, but not from the current Emblem range. There was a slight variation to this on the Northern Ireland sheet, where the flag of Ulster was considered to be too politically sensitive to use. Therefore they replaced both the flag and what should have been the Patchwork of Fields design with two images of significant landmarks. Subsequently these designs have been used on Smilers sheets and the occasional prestige booklet.

These stamps are definitely Regional definitives in their intent (they include all the standard definitive security features including elliptical perforations) and are therefore listed herein.

Celebrating Northern Ireland Miniature Sheet

One of a series of miniature sheets from each of the four regions, issued to coincide with the respective Saints days. The sheet contains two Emblem style 1st regionals, But both in previously unissued designs, plus two 72p panoramic format commemoratives, one depicting Belfast, the other a stylised image of St.Patrick with snakes. The sheet measures 124 x 71mm approximately.

(B) Classic Regional NVIs

To mark the 50th Anniversary of first Regionals, Royal Mail have reissued the classic Regional designs for 3d, 6d and 1/3 from Northern Ireland, Scotland and Wales in their original colours, but redenominated 1st, much in the same way as they handled the 50th Anniversary of the Wilding and Castle issues.

There are two distinct issues – the nine stamps in a gravure printed miniature sheet, all of which have a beige wash over the background to simulate the ageing of the paper, which was distinctly creamy coloured when originally issued – and the same values litho printed from a prestige stamp booklet, which do not have the beige wash and are instantly distinguishable by their very white paper. Both versions were printed by De La Rue.
